

Servo Pie Likely Chord Progression

Key (Most Likely)

- A Major (with some modal/borrowed chords creeping in from mixes)
-

Core Progression (Main Loop Feel)

The strongest, most repeated progression comes through as:

A – D – E – A

That's a classic I – IV – V – I in A major

This is the backbone you're hearing across large sections.

Secondary Movement (Variation Sections)

There are sections where it shifts slightly into:

A – F#m – D – E

I – vi – IV – V

Very common pop/rock progression, adds a bit more emotional lift.

Occasional Passing / Mashup Artifacts

Because this is a mashup, you'll hear transient or clashing chords like:

- G / Em / C
- Brief minor shifts (e.g. F#m, Em)

These are likely:

- From the second track layered in
 - Not part of the “true” underlying progression, but harmonic overlap
-

Simple Takeaway (What to Play)

If you want to perform or recreate it cleanly, stick with:

Option 1 (simplest)

A – D – E – A

Option 2 (richer / fuller)

A – F#m – D – E